

Getting a Google Account

Go to www.google.com/accounts.

Click the 'Create an account now' link.

Don't have a Google Account?
Create an account now

Fill in the information on the screen.

A screenshot of the "Create a Google Account" form. The form is titled "Create a Google Account" and includes a link for "sign in here" if the user already has an account. The "Required information for Google account" section contains fields for "Your current email address" (with an example "e.g. myname@example.com"), "Choose a password" (with a "Password strength" indicator), and "Re-enter password". There is a "Remember me on this computer" checkbox and a checked "Enable Web History" checkbox. The "Location" is set to "United States". The "Word Verification" section shows a picture of a green scribble and a text input field. The "Terms of Service" section includes a scrollable area for the "Google Terms of Service" and a link for "Printable Version". At the bottom, there is a button that says "I accept. Create my account." and a footer with copyright information and links for "Google Home", "Terms of Service", "Privacy Policy", and "Help".

Click the 'I accept. Create my account.' link.

I accept. Create my account.

Note: An email will be sent to your designated email account to verify that it is a real account. You will want to log into your email to check for this message.

To move on to the Google applications, click the 'Click here to continue.' link.

Click here to continue.

From this screen, click on the Google application you wish to explore further. Click the 'More' link to see additional options.

